Amended & Reapproved: September 1997; November 2006; September 16, 2009; March 17, 2010; February 19, 2014; March 22, 2017; August 19, 2020; December 23, 2021

POLICY:

The Council Bluffs Public Library seeks to enrich, empower and inform the community through the addition of resources to the Library's collection. The Collection Development Policy outlines the criteria for the selection and management of these resources.

I. PURPOSE

This Collection Development Policy provides board-approved guidelines for the library staff to most effectively use the Library's financial resources to fulfill the present and anticipated needs of the community it serves.

The purpose of this policy is to recognize the diverse library needs of all citizens and to provide on equal terms, free, open and equal access and to provide service to all individuals and groups.

It incorporates the library's goals and objectives, the principles of the Library Bill of Rights, the Freedom to Read and View statements and the Free Access to Libraries for Minors.

II. SELECTION CRITERIA

Materials are selected in accordance with the mission and goals of the library, the varied interest of our patrons, budgetary and space constraints.

Materials will be selected using professional judgment and standard selection tools.

The Library Bill of Rights will be the foundation of the Collection Development process.

Scope of the collection is intended to offer all persons a choice of format, treatment and level of difficulty so that the majority of the cultural, informational, educational and recreational needs of the individual user can be met.

Emphasis is placed on works of general interest. The library does not attempt to acquire textbooks or other curriculum related materials except as such materials contribute to and serve the needs of the general public.

The addition of material to the library does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of its content, but assures that a variety of differing points of view are represented.

Multiple copies of heavily requested titles may be purchased to meet community needs.

Funds for materials are reviewed and allocated at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Selection involves striking a balance between demand for current, highly requested titles and the need to maintain and develop a balanced core collection. Patron requests will be given strong consideration.

III. RESPONSIBILITES FOR MATERIALS SELECTION

The Director delegates the authority and responsibility for collection development and management to appropriate staff. However, ultimate responsibility for materials selection rests with the Director who operates within the framework of policies determined by the Library Board.

IV. ACCESSIBILITY

CBPL will not restrict access to any library materials in public areas.

Children, young adult, and adult collections are differentiated based on reading level, language comprehension, and audience. These collections may be housed in designated areas to aid in discovery.

Determining the appropriateness of materials for minors is the sole responsibility of the parent or guardian.

Some materials and resources are designated for use in the library only.

V. WEEDING

The library's collection should be evaluated on a continuing basis for retention, replacement, or withdrawal in order to improve the accessibility of the remaining materials, enhance the appearance of the collection and help improve the overall circulation and turnover rates of materials

Weeded materials become surplus property and may be, at the discretion of the Library Director, donated, disposed of, or sold by the Friends of the Library for fund-raising purposes.

Director's Report April 2024

This year I am participating in the College View Elementary Exhibition process as a mentor for a group of 5th graders researching book banning. Exhibition is the final project for 5th graders as College View is an International Baccalaureate school. The intention is that students will use all of the skills they have developed throughout elementary to research a topic and take action then present on it. I have met with these students weekly for an hour to answer questions, guide research, and provide support. It has been such a wonderful experience to help a group of caring and focused kids learn more about what book banning is and how it could affect them. It was timely that I began meeting with my group in April. National Library Week was the beginning of April and a lot of information and data is shared during that week about the previous year in libraries. Many of the students were shocked by the numbers, what books are banned, and why they are banned. As we are getting to the end of the school year and the end of their project, they are moving to action and it is inspiring to see them use wonderful information literacy skills to share with the community about the process and effect of book banning. Their presentation along with their classmates and their topics will be on May 21st.

In April I also spent time in a lot of partner meetings. Partnerships and highlighting resources and services in the community are vital to being an information resource for the community. In that vein we have worked hard to establish partnerships around health equity and social service agencies. We now host weekly street outreach services and monthly services with League of Human Dignity and Heartland Family Services. This summer we will also be a weekly site for the mobile clinic through All Care. I am always seeking out more partnerships for us to connect our community to resources.

April was also the month of focus groups for the strategic plan. I spent time with the consultants looking at data and working to make sure as many people could be included to get insightful information on what the future and focus of the library should be for the next 5 or so years. Some early key findings include that people want more, more books, more access, and more hours. All these things take money, so we will begin to explore deeper how to accomplish some of the basic things, but in a greater amount.

Facilities Update:

New blinds were installed in the windows near the fiction materials. These are intended to address some of the fading that is happening on materials in the fiction and paperback sections.

Windows have been washed on the building for the year to clear away the grime that builds up over the winter from the salt on the streets.

The roof is in need of repair and likely some sections will need replacement. We are working with the City to determine the best options.

Staff Update:

Julie Mooney resigned from the library in April. We hired Hannah Moore as her replacement. Hannah is a high school student at Lewis Central.

Trish Alfers has taken over the library assistant position in support services that Deb Miller retired from. The position will have slightly different duties.

We hired Breanne Seidle and Megan Geren as part-time library assistants in the circulation department. They will assist with all aspects of circulation. Breanne will also support the new Cochran Kiosk location when that opens later this year.

Jake Burgess resigned from his role in the teen department. He will be missed.

We have posted the two open positions in Teen Central and hope to have them filled by early summer.

Public Service's Report

April 2024

Access

The first batch of books for the Cochran Park Kiosk were ordered this month. Items will be cataloged through the month of May.

The bike locks have had a high circulation ever since they've been introduced. A definite success.

Theresa and Lindsay attended a Family Night at Titan Hill and provided an activity and library information. They interacted with 375 patrons.

Lindsay completed one outreach for our department this month to Silent Book Club on April 5th at PACE. This event was less attended than past months, and there were only 14 attendees. We had 13 interactions though! We had also intended to do outreach on 4/27 to Crescent at their inaugural Farmers Market, but they cancelled the event due to the storm the previous evening.

Julianne and her volunteers coordinated delivery of 274 items to 44 individuals this month. We had 1 new individual register for Homebound in April. They also delivered 20 items to two of our registered pocket collections as well.

Automatic Renewals were changed to only occur one time, and patrons still have the option to renew manually a second time. Information at the desk was updated to reflect this change when introducing new patrons to the library. We also run a second hold notice out in the afternoons to expedite when patrons find out about an available hold, this goes out in the afternoon at 3 pm. Our original notice still goes out in the morning around 7 am.

Creighton Camerer taught a couple of staff members of the 911 CB Emergency learn how to you the heat press. They made each of their fellow staff members a personalized tote bags to honor and thank them for their work during National Public Services Week, April 14–20. They made 27 tote bags and 27 accompanying small zip bags personalized with their name and badge number.

A patron came in with a sample mug to do on the Heat Transfer Press before she did several for gifts. She discovered that her logo pattern was not as clear as it needs to be, so Creighton showed her how to create a sharper image to cut down the blurriness of her design.

Mindy McCollough had three full classes for the How to Sew: a Water Resistant Drawstring Bag, to tie into the OUR Community Reads theme.

Marketing & Public Awareness

We had one new pass added in April: Omaha Jitterbugs. It's available to public on Friday evenings for their weekly event, Jitterbugs Night Out. 2 people can attend on 1 pass. Zoo passes on April 1st all went out on the first day – they're always popular when it's warmer out! We also handed out Opera Omaha Tickets, 34 in total. Lindsay took care of promotion for all three of these Discovery Pass updates.

Lindsay also created the Google Form for the voting of the name for the new book return (AMH) for the public. Emily put together a bilingual newsletter that went out at the end of April. She also created Facebook posts for the Spanish page about Moneysmart Week, Opera Omaha tickets, the Strategic Planning focus group, Día Celebration, & Free Comic Book Day. She assisted Youth with translating a May Peachjar flyer & their Día event promotion. Emily created a Spanish Omaha Jitterbugs blog post.

Resources & Services

There were 14 on-site storytimes serving 377 patrons. The most popular Macaroni & ABCs this month was Music with Lori Lynn. Overall attendance at Macaroni & ABCs was 148 patrons.

Chris, Theresa, Lisa, and Anna collectively provided 60 storytime programs for classroom groups this month, reaching 985 students and teachers.

This month's Homeschool Huddle theme was Citizen Science. The most popular activity creating bugs from recycled parts. Forty-two patrons attended.

Bridget planned and executed 9 after-school programs this month for 117 patrons. The most popular session was for Hex Bugs. Kids were allowed to build little obstacle courses for the robots to navigate.

Bridget and Cayce worked the Love on a Leash program this month. Forty-one patrons attended.

We welcomed author Stacy McAnulty to town to present to all of our second grade students for the Our Community Reads program. She had 3 presentations throughout the day—2 for CBCSD students at Longfellow Elementary and 1 for Titan Hill and St. Albert students at the LCHS Performing Arts Center. Over the course of the day, she saw 985 students and teachers.

On April 2nd, Jamie delivered 870 books to 6th-grade classrooms around the city. The books Sunny Makes a Splash were purchased and given to 6th graders in preparation for the author's visit with Jennifer Holm on April 23rd. Wilson Middle School and Kirn Middle School each had the author come to visit. Lewis Central High School graciously hosted the LC Middle School and St. Albert 6th graders to the event in their building. The students were engaged throughout the presentation. We received a lot of great feedback regarding the visit.

Trish escorted 8th graders to the Kirn 8th grade commons for Book Feast throughout April. Jamie enjoyed leading discussions and book talks with an enthusiastic group of 8th-grade girls once a week throughout April. The group enjoyed a pizza party and book talks for their final group on May 1st.

School Clubs at Kirn and Wilson will be finished by the first of May.

We reorganized the paperbacks and cleaned up that collection somewhat in the last month. We were also excited to see that the shades went up this last month to help protect this collection from additional fading!

Caroline hosted a 2 hour seed packing party with volunteers from the Master Gardeners in April, with 7 volunteers attending and donating their own seed.

One of our highlights this month was to have Steve Sieberson back to tell us about his new book entitled "The 15th Amendment." The audience really connected with him in a variety of ways related to the topics that he explores in his novel.

Our Spring Author Fair had 11 authors promote their books at tables in the Atrium. They really enjoyed talking with the community and each other.

OUR Community Reads author of the adult title, Ben McGrath, was so interesting to listen to as he told us of his research on Conant - The Riverman. We especially were interested in what Conant did in coming through Omaha on the Missouri River.

Marlys Lien shared that as she was walking out of the post office in Council Bluffs recently, a woman walking in the door smiles at her, and says "THANK YOU FOR ALL OF THE PROGRAMS YOU OFFER AT THE LIBRARY!" Her face was not a familiar one to her (frequent attender) and Marlys didn't have time to stop and ask her which ones she liked, but it sure was a reflection on how the community appreciates what the library offers!

Institutional Success

Anna presented about her child-focused career for the after-school babysitting clubs at Kirn and Wilson this month.

Chris and Theresa attended a Bee City USA education committee meeting.

Chris and Theresa worked with Pottawattamie County Conservation to provide the third in the Gardening for Diversity series.

We had 21 new registrations for 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten. Fifty-eight readers are actively participating in the program through Beanstack.

The Dolly Parton Imagination Library had 51 new registrations this month and delivered 1,836 books.

The Library has partnered with the Omaha Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) Coalition to be a venue for tax preparation services. EITC provided 98 free tax preparations in April to conclude the 2023 Tax Season.

Partnering with the University of Northern Iowa, Daley Porter has been working with a volunteer from the Pottawattamie Genealogical Society to digitize Pottawattamie County Rural School Records held by UNI. After scanning the records, we are sending the digitized records to UNI and are allowed to retain a digital copy for our collection. The scanning of first batch that were sent to us has been completed. Daley finished uploading the files, shared them with UNI, and sent back the microfilm reels.
